

GOOSE STEP GAME DAY

Fuel to Go & Play™ Premiership

MATCH DAY REVIEW

North Beach Sea Eagles v South Perth Lions - At Blueforce Park, its an absolute cracking game to start the year, with a grand final rematch between the old rivals. North Beach look strong, welcoming back Jeremy Wallace and Cairo Takarangi, from his second retirement. Keep an eye on boom centre Kalis Mason who looks like he could be anything. The Lions have a familiar looking team, with Thomas and Proudler connecting in the halves. But the backrow of Green, Smith and the younger Wells-Talamaivao looks exciting.

Joondalup Giants v Fremantle Roosters - Around the corner, the revamp Joondalup Giants take on the early season heavy weights in the Fremantle Roosters. The Giants, with new coach Sheehan at the helm will usher in some new blood, which includes exciting young winger Tyzak Duval-Hita. For Fremantle, they want to get back to the top and they aren't mucking around. Finally have some of their cattle back from FIFO lives, with Bjorn Crotty, Sonny Kerr and Simon Tabakanaca here to stay, they look imposing in 2022.

Rockingham Sharks v Ellenbrook Rabbitohs - And it's the return of the Rabbitohs, who make the long trek down the Kwinana Freeway to take on the hosting Rockingham Sharks. The Sharks will be looking to erase a long 2021 season, with returning junior and new captain Keelyn Tuuta-Edwards leading the charge. For the Rabbitohs, Chazz Palmer has returned to lead the side, which sees a large group of debuting first graders, in what should be a nice acid test for both sides.

Joondalup Giants vs Fremantle Roosters

In a first up game in the north, two of our heavy weight female clubs clash in the opening Women's League Tag game of the year.

Joondalup, who have been a consistent presence over the last decade, fell to 5th spot last season, and will be looking to rebound in a big way in 2022. With some good young players coming through in Amiria Edwards and Emma Good, along with stalwarts in Utia, Warren, Gillmor and Wylie, they look like showing up in a big way in 2022. Evergreen Karina Spence goes around again in what should be a record breaking year for the player.

For Fremantle, it was heartbreak last year. A golden point loss to the Lions in an epic encounter, they will be looking to go one better this season. Behind captain Shanaaz Te Ahuru, the Roosters will play their usual high tempo style on the back of Traynor, Pears and Smith. But the big story here is the return of Lauren Chambers, who is a points scoring ace, along side Attwell and Higgins, who have huge ability to find the line.

Alkimos Tigers vs Serpentine Jarrahdale Serpents

In an interesting Val Murphy Trophy clash, the might of the Alkimos Tigers takes on the new boys on the block in the SJ Serpents. Both teams will be looking to build combinations in what should be an interesting affair.

For the Tigers, they are off a Val Murphy Premiership, although in 3rd division last year and have stepped up to this competition. And their spine is incredible. While Donovan is not a household name, he has great feet and is safe as houses for the Northerners. But the other names jump off the page. Tuitama, Broughton, Wanahi and Davey Martin ooze class. If the Tigers can get it together quickly they will be really hard to beat.

For the new guys, its hard to get a massive read on them. In a trial, they looked energetic in stints and don't mind throwing the ball around in a "Fijian Style". Forwards Veidreyaki and Taliatu look very powerful, while willy old veteran Gemmell will be steering the ship for the Serpents. Improving every week will be the key for this group.
