MATCH DAY REVIEW

South Perth Lions vs Ellenbrook Rabbitohs - At George Burnett Park, the Lions open their home season against the Rabbitohs and its an interesting contest. The Lions are quietly annoyed by their ball control last week, and were beaten by a disciplined, although a man down North Beach. New man Paish looks a likely baller. Ellenbrook were beaten off the park last week, but with no less than 8 new players, will come in with a completely different, fresh side.

Joondalup Giants v North Beach Sea Eagles - Up at Admiral Park, the proud Giants hung on to snatch the opener last week and will continue to look for that heart against a good looking Sea Eagles side. Second rower, Brad Sparrow, was a class above, and caused headaches all day. For Beach, they were too clinical in a win against the Lions, and will be looking to build on that effort. Their fitness levels, along with the explosive form of Beau Constable will make for an amazing backrow battle.

Rockingham Sharks v Fremantle Roosters - The Sharks ran roughshod over the new boys last weekend, but it's a brand new assignment this week. With some key outs, and injuries, captain Keelyn Tuuta-Edwards will be looking for a big display against one of the competition heavyweights. The Roosters, by their own lofty standards last week, were poor. They had chances to snatch that game, but came up empty and will be looking to rectify that this week. Edwards comes into the starting line up, with Tuakana shifting into the 7 jersey.

Rockingham Sharks vs Fremantle Roosters

Well its massive games in all three contests this weekend down in Port Kennedy, and we start with a great game between the improved Sharks and the classy Roosters

The Rockingham Sharks scored a nice first up win against the rebuilding Ellenbrook Rabbitohs, and will be out to really test their mettle against one of the favourites. One of the heavy weights back in the day, over the last decade or so the Sharks have become "the Tigers" of the comp, where they push the good sides, but sit just outside the 4. But with Heddz Williams a shining light, the Sharks will really fancy their chances this season.

The Roosters, were at their dynamic best last weekend and exploded out of the blocks to record a 30-10 victory. Chambers and Higgins were at the most dangerous, but an injury to Pears has put a bit of a dampener on that win, so will see how that matches up. With incredible shape and lines, Traynor and Te Ahuru have the ball on a string. This will be a good game to see where both teams are at this stage.

Rockingham Sharks vs Fremantle Roosters

A couple of heavyweights will go toe to toe in this weekends Val Murphy Trophy clash down at Kwinana Local Stadium. The refreshed Rockingham Sharks will be looking to add another win at home, while the Fremantle Roosters hit the turbo last week against the Giants to stamp themselves as real dangers.

The Sharks were good without being great last weekend. A dogged effort from the Mandurah Storm pushed the Sharks the whole way before injury and a send off allowed the Sharks to really stretch out the score late. And it was the forwards who really stood out. Efforts from Charles Tamatoa and big Michael Howe really led the way for the Sharks, and they will look for their big men again to lay the platform. Lochlan Christy is a big in for their spine, but they also lose Peter Worth in an offsetting injury.

Fremantle really flexed their attacking muscle last weekend against the giants, and with good reason. Their attacking structure includes exciting players such as Konnor Day, Ruamai Erueti, Gabe Setu and dependable Rima Los'e. But the emergence of young Tehaunui Parkinson is one of the linchpins of this side. His undeniable energy and enthusiasm has given some of these old timers a new lease on life.
